ZHENGZHOU UNIVERSITY

KEY FEATURES:

- ZZU is a prestigious institution recognized under China's National "211 Project" and "One Province, One University" initiative, jointly supported by Henan Province and the Ministry of Education. In 2017, it entered the ranks of National World First-Class Universities. With a focus on becoming a comprehensive, research-oriented university, ZZU has set a three-step development strategy to achieve world-class status by the mid-21st century.
- ZZU's medical education traces back to 1928 with the founding of National No. 5 Sun Yat-sen University. Its medical discipline became an independent institution in 1952, renamed "Henan Medical College," marking the beginning of modern medical education in Henan.
- ZZU boasts 5 disciplines ranked in the top 1% globally in the ESI rankings, with chemistry and clinical medicine in the top 3%. Globally, ZZU is ranked 918th in ESI academic institutions and 45th among Chinese universities.
- ZZU has a strong academic team comprising 736 professors and 2,087 PhDs. The team includes academicians, academic masters, distinguished young scholars, Yangtze River scholars as leaders, and young PhDs as key contributors.
- ZZU offers diverse doctoral and master's programs, 24 post-doctoral exchange centers, and boasts over 5,700 staff, including 10 Chinese and 3 overseas academicians.
